Artist Profile

Irish-born multi-instrumentalist and songwriter Áine Tyrrell is renowned for her genre-defying music that blends folk, roots, and soul. Since relocating to Australia, Áine has carved a unique path with her evocative songwriting and heartfelt performances, captivating audiences with stories of resilience, culture, and connection. Áine's music effortlessly weaves together the traditions of her Irish heritage with contemporary influences, creating a powerful and timeless sound. Her critically acclaimed albums, including "Return to the Sea" and "In This House," have showcased her skill as a storyteller and her versatility as a musician.

Incorporating the Strymon BlueSky

Known for her live-looping and innovative approach to performance, Áine recently added the Strymon BlueSky Reverberator to her pedalboard. A favorite among professional musicians for its lush, versatile reverb tones, the BlueSky allows Áine to explore deeper sonic textures and enhance her live and studio soundscapes.

Amber Technology is excited to see how Áine incorporates the BlueSky into her upcoming creative endeavours. Whether adding ethereal layers to her intimate acoustic sets or enriching the depth of her studio recordings, the Strymon BlueSky is poised to complement Áine's musical journey beautifully.
