

ARTIST'S STORY

ROCKBOARD®
by WARWICK

RHYS WARDEN

Guitarist/Vocals - Awakening Music
and various other artists

Music has always been part of Rhys Warden's life, from young age he was fascinated by Michael Jackson's hits, dreaming of being in control of the stage, just like Jimmy Page did with Led Zeppelin. His great taste for music, talent and passion have led to him becoming the accomplished musician he is today. Rhys is a lead singer, guitarist and performer across a variety of different formats.

Live/studio experience highlights and current activities

I am currently working around the Australian live music scene in various ways, from typical acoustic cover gigs at bars, to larger scale shows. I also toured and spent time in the studio with my band 'Awakening Music' and am currently working on a debut solo EP due to be release mid 2021.

Previous experiences with the brand Warwick

I've used some stands and various other accessories.

What made you choose the Warwick RockBoard Tres 3.0 with Module 2?

I was after a small, portable rig that was easy to fly with, and could accommodate my Line 6 HX Effects and a few other pedals that I use for both acoustic and electric gigs.

How will the product assist/improve your workflow?

The Module 2 makes setup and tear down so quick and easy at shows! Plus saving the constant plugging in and out on pedals and power supplies which causes equipment to wear out over time.

What are the key features you would recommend?

I would recommend the Rockboard series to any musician looking to streamline their setup so they can spend less time setting up, and more time making music.
